Anne M. Mulcahy

Speaker: Anne M. Mulcahy – Chairman and C.E.O., Xerox Corporation

On: Friday, November 17, 2006

Location: Everglades Dining Room

Anne Mulcahy, a 28-year veteran of Xerox, began her career selling copiers in Boston in 1976. Assuming increasingly responsible sales and senior management positions, she was named C.E.O. of Xerox on August 1, 2001, and chairman on January 1, 2002. She most recently was Xerox president and chief operating officer from May 2000 through July 2001. In the last three years, she led the company through a massive transformation — reinventing Xerox into an innovative technology and services enterprise that helps businesses deploy smarter document management strategies and find better ways to work. Building on Xerox's rich heritage of social responsibility, Ms. Mulcahy ensures that the company's business decisions and actions align with a clear set of corporate values.

Ms. Mulcahy and her team are responsible for an aggressive, multibillion-dollar turnaround plan that returned Xerox to profitability - significantly improving the company's financial position and expanding its portfolio of systems and services. By maintaining an investment in innovation, Xerox has completely overhauled its product line, winning share in key segments of the market. In addition, the company launched Xerox Global Services, offering content management, imaging and consulting services. The combination of innovative technology and value-added services has delivered strong results, prompting MONEY magazine to dub Xerox "the great turnaround story of the post-crash era – an IBM for the 2000's."

In addition to the Xerox board, Ms. Mulcahy is a member of the boards of directors of Target Corporation and Citigroup, and is a member of The Business Council. She is also a board member of Catalyst, a nonprofit organization supporting women in business.
